

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to treating joint related conditions in mammals by administering an aminosugar, and wherein said treatment specifically prevents, lessens or reverses pathologies associated with the joint condition, said pathologies
5 being selected from the group consisting of synovitis, subchondral bone edema, and cartilage degradation.